Milos Stool

Sitland

Tapered and seductive shapes distinguish the Milos padded seat collection, which comprises a series of comfortable models with or without armrests, which stand out for their elegant versatility and their ability to fit in with both contract and home settings. In Milos, the seat and back form a single whole, a streamlined and stylish single shell that outlines a shape oozing graceful beauty and ultimate comfort, resting on several types of wooden or aluminium bases. available in an extensive range of fine fabrics and finishes, and a palette of colours and textures that embraces attractive nuances and quality that expresses the full styling appeal of the seats. The Milos collection comprises multiple models to suit various types of settings: from the sophisticated version with wooden trestle base, to the version with a steel sled-base and also the operational office versions with castors. also available is the original stool version with steel sled-base or height-adjustable base.
